1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 24-45 and 65-66 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claims 24-45 recite a method for performing a mathematical function. Claim 65 recites a method of designing the circuit having the "carrier medium". Claim 66 recites a carrier medium" carrying computer readable code ....

"[t]o satisfy section 101 requirements, the claim must be for a practical application of the Sec. 101 judicial exception, which can be identified in various ways:

- . The claimed invention "transforms" an article or physical object to a different state or thing.
- . The claimed invention otherwise produces a useful, concrete and tangible result,...".

See "Interim Guidelines for Examination of Patent Applications for Patent Subject Matter Eligibility" OG Date: 22 November 2005.

Since there is no physical transform to establish a practical application, a useful, concrete and tangible result appears to be lacking. Therefore, claims 24-45 and 65-66 are directed to a non-statutory process.

2. Claims 24-45 and 65-66 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Cited references is art of interest.

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the recorded references do NOT teach or suggest the novel "encoder logic ....either generate unmodified Booth encoded output bits or modified Booth encoded output bits in dependent upon said received control input" feature as recited in independent claim 1. Similar language is used in other independent claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
